

FARM WOMEN GET TOGETHER

Mrs. A. C. Moulton, Heber City, director of the Utah section of the Women's Association of Farm Bureaus, chats with two German women, members of the organization, visiting in Salt Lake City Saturday during part of a nation-wide tour. They are Maria Baur, Bavaria, left, and Lucie Boeck, Niedersachsen.

6

FARM WOMEN GET TOGETHER

Mrs. A. C. Moulton, Heber City, director of the Utah section of the Women's Association of Farm Bureaus, chats with two German women, members of the organization, visiting in Salt Lake City Saturday during part of a nation-wide tour. They are Maria Baur, Bavaria, left, and Lucie Boeck, Niedersachsen.

PRAISE U. S. FARMS

German Farm Women Laud Utah Scenery

Irrigated farm lands, typical American dairies and the rugged mountains of Utah Saturday brought amazement to the faces of two German members of the International Women's Association of Farm Bureaus.

They are Maria Baur, president of the Bavarian association in the American zone in Germany, and Lucie Boeck, president of the Niedersachsen chapter in the British zone.

The pair were the guests of Mrs. A. C. Moulton, Heber City, director of the Utah association, on a tour Saturday of Salt Lake City and a dairy farm in Davis County.

They are making a tour of the United States to "study the American way of life," and are scheduled to leave for California Saturday night. They have currently attended the national convention of the association in T. Collins, Colo.

Both women were "surprised" to find beautiful mountains in the United States. They said that others who had visited this country and had not come west returned to Germany with the report that there were no mountains comparable to those in Europe.

The women also had their first view of an irrigated farm and an American dairy farm, expressing amazement at the cleanliness and modern machinery used to process milk and other dairy products.

They reported the produce market in Germany as poor due to the lack of money in circulation in that country now.

